CORONER'S OFFICE.—The Coroner yesterday held an in-quest at his office in the Halls of Justice on the body of Williams Arents, a native of this city, aged 44 years. The deceased was greatly addicted to intemperance; so much so, that his wife and family, a considerable time since, were compelled to sepa-rate themselves from him, owing to his being in almost a count-val state of interfection. On Western ual state of intoxication. On Wednesday evening he went into a cooper's shop at No. 86 Hester street, and laid down in some shavings, where he continued all night, and was found there deal yesterday morning. Verdict—Died of intemperance.

Also on the body of an unknown infant, found in a box in a yard adjacent to the burying-ground of St. Jshn's Church. Dr. Creveling executed a post mortem examination of the body, and decided that it had been stillborn. Verdict accordingly.

CHURCHES vs. THEATRES.

Mr. Editor: - I read with much surprise in THE SES of esterday, an article relating to Theatres, Lectures, Classneetings, &c. I regarded the article as editorial, and wonred at the new-fangled zeal of this editor and would-be reformer. Well, I thought, his views being correct, the Christian community have been acting with a real not seconding to knowledge. Instead of sending missionaries to preach the everlasting gospel among those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death, they should as the least requirious have sent out to every part of the earth a well-drilled theatrical corps to improve the morals of mankind. Something new, if not under the Sun, at least in it. I suppose that the next improvement which the 'independent' und moral editor of the will suggest, will be a general theatrical law, by which all Churches and School houses are to be transformed to Theatres with all their moralizing of ceteros, for the benefit of the rising generation.

Not only are all religious sects included in this general denunciation that Church-meetings are more demorshing than Theatres (!) but the Methodist Episcopal Church, more amerous in this country than any other denomination of Christianity, is singled out for particular oblequy. It is known that this is the only Church having 'class-meetings,' and these meetings, so far from being evening-meetings, are generally held on Sundays or week-day afternoons. I speak for one. I have been seventeen years a Methodist, yet I have never, in the hundreds of class-meetings' that I have attended, witnessed or heard the least thing that could agthorize the Sun's outrageous attack; on the contrary, these brotherhood, exert an influence that would awe into annihile ion the uxhallowed sensation which the Sun contends these cetings arouse. SHAME! WHERE is thy blush?

This (Thursday) morning the editor, (or some one who ays him for inserting, as editorial, a swaggering article,) ionies that the abusive piece of vestering was editorial, and If this is true, why did it not come out or appear as an ad-vertisement. It was in the same column, the same type, and with the same general dress as other editorials; and though the editor may have some private mark or record by which othing at the bar of an outraged Christian public. Even hough it had been a regular advertisement, and m its own trees instead of the editorial gurb, what could excuse or paldress instead of the enterior gard, what could excise or pul-liate this paid-for slander of the whole Christian community. [A legal tribunal holds the Press responsible for slanderous advertisements as well as estitorials. The Christian public will do the same.] 'It was paid for —so much the worse! bought, his ewn sentiments, men might at last have been ex cited to pity and forgive him; believing that his rage was less from dislike of Christian assemblage and worship than from admiration of Theatres—perhaps his plan of worship— and that the 'class-meetings' to which he alludes were in the ide-rooms thereunto pertaining. Unfortunately for the editor o such excuse can now be effered. View the subject as we may, the only reason that he can give for his shameful conluct, is that he was bribed-had joined hand with "Massman, the least erected spirit that fell From Heaves—for e'en in Heaven his looks and thoughts Were always downward best, admiring more. The riches of Heaven's pavement, tradden gold, Than aught-divine or holy, else enjoyed. In vision beatife."

I have no personal interest in any paper of the city. I ke an independent, but not an irrespon unclusion, I would say not only to the Methodiats who are singled out as a mark for the Sun's malignanity, but to the whole Christian community, Will you longer warm and pamper the viper whose highest aim is to crawl in shining muck, Yours, and use his deadly sting?
